中考英语完形填空：参加英语角

完形填空原文

Every Saturday afternoon, there is an English Corner in the city square. Anyone who wants to practise speaking English can come. I had heard about it many times but never had the 1 to go. Last week, my English teacher encouraged me to try. She said, "The only way to improve speaking is to speak."

When I arrived, about twenty people were already there. Some were students like me, and some were office workers. A friendly man in his thirties came over and said, "Hi! What's your name?" I was so 2 that I could hardly speak. My heart was beating fast. But I took a deep breath and said, "My name is Zhang Wei. I'm a junior high student."

We started with simple topics: the weather, our hobbies, and our favourite foods. I made many mistakes. Sometimes I used the wrong tense; sometimes I could not find the right 3. But nobody laughed at me. They all nodded and encouraged me to continue. One lady even said, "Your English is better than you think. Don't be afraid to make 4."

As I relaxed, I found it easier to 5. I talked about my summer holiday and my favourite basketball team. A university student asked me questions about my school life. We chatted for almost half an hour. I realised that I knew more English than I thought — I just needed the chance to 6 it.

When it was time to leave, the organiser gave me a small card. It said, "See you next Saturday!" I have been back every week since then. My 7 has improved a lot. I used to be afraid of English class, but now I even raise my hand to answer questions. My teacher noticed the change and praised me.

English Corner taught me that language is for 8. We learn grammar and vocabulary not just to pass exams, but to connect with people. The important thing is to keep trying. I have made several friends at English Corner. We sometimes meet for coffee and practise English together. I am 9 that I finally took that first step. I will continue to join the English Corner and hope to help 10 like me who are afraid to speak.
