中考英语完形填空：第一次坐地铁

完形填空原文

Last Sunday, my mother took me to the city centre by subway for the first time. I had always travelled by bus or by car, so I was very curious about the underground train. We walked to the nearest station, which was about ten minutes from our home.

When we entered the station, I was surprised by how clean and modern it was. Bright lights lit up the platform. Many people were waiting in line. My mother bought two tickets from a machine. She said we could also use a transport card, which was more 1. I put the ticket in my pocket carefully.

We went down the escalator to the platform. I saw the train tracks and the electronic board showing when the next train would 2. "Stand behind the yellow line," my mother reminded me. "It's dangerous to get too close to the edge." I nodded and stepped back.

When the train arrived, the doors opened automatically. We got on and found two empty seats. The train was quite 3 — there were passengers reading, looking at their phones, or just sitting quietly. The train started to move. It was much faster than I had expected. Through the windows, I could see the dark tunnel and the dim lights passing by. It felt a little 4, but also exciting.

After three stops, we got off. We followed the signs to find the exit. My mother said that in big cities, the subway was the best way to avoid traffic jams. "During rush hour, cars move very slowly, but the subway is always 5," she explained.

We did some shopping and had lunch in the city centre. On our way back, we took the subway again. This time I felt more 6. I even helped an old lady find her way when she looked lost.

My first subway ride was a memorable experience. I learned that the subway is not only convenient but also environmentally 7, because it uses electricity instead of petrol. I hope that in the future, more cities will have subways so that people can travel more 8.

I'm looking forward to taking the subway again. Maybe next time I can 9 the route myself and travel alone. It would be a big step towards becoming more 10.
