中考英语完形填空：第一次钓鱼

完形填空原文

On October 5th, my father took me fishing at a lake near our town. It was my 1 time fishing, and I was very excited.

We arrived at the lake early in the morning. The surface of the water was calm and smooth, like a 2. A few other fishermen were already sitting by the lake with their fishing rods. They looked very patient and focused.

Father taught me how to put the bait on the hook. I was a little 3 to touch the worm at first, but Father showed me it was harmless. Then he showed me how to cast the line into the water. My first try went wrong — the hook landed right at my feet! Father laughed and helped me try 4.

After casting the line successfully, we sat down and waited. And waited. And waited some more. Nothing happened for a long time. I started to feel 5. "Can we go home?" I asked. Father shook his head. "Fishing teaches you patience," he said. "Good things come to those who 6."

About an hour later, I suddenly felt a pull on my line. "I think I've got one!" I shouted. Father rushed over and told me to pull the rod up 7. I pulled with all my strength. After a short struggle, a silver fish appeared above the water. It was not very big, but I was overjoyed.

Father helped me take the fish off the hook and put it in a bucket. I stared at it, feeling a great sense of 8. I had caught my first fish! The other fishermen nearby smiled and congratulated me.

We stayed at the lake until noon and I caught two more fish. Father caught five. On the way home, I held the bucket 9 as if it contained treasure.

That evening, Mother cooked the fish for dinner. It tasted absolutely delicious — probably because I had caught it 10. Fishing turned out to be much more fun than I had expected.
