中考英语完形填空：观看烟花表演

完形填空原文

On the evening of October 6th, our city held a fireworks show to celebrate the National Day holiday. My family and I went to the riverside to 1 it.

When we arrived, the riverbank was already packed with people. Children were running around with glowing sticks, and street vendors were selling snacks and drinks. The 2 was lively and festive.

At eight o'clock sharp, the first firework shot up into the dark sky. It exploded into a shower of golden sparks, like a giant flower 3 in the night. Everyone cheered and clapped their hands. My little brother jumped up and down with excitement.

The fireworks came in all shapes and colors — red, green, blue, purple, and gold. Some looked like stars, some looked like waterfalls, and some 4 hearts or smiley faces in the sky. Each one was more beautiful than the last. The whole sky was lit up as if it were daytime.

I took out my phone and tried to 5 some photos. But it was hard to capture the beauty of the moment. The fireworks moved too fast and my photos turned out blurry. Father said, "Sometimes it's better to just enjoy the moment with your 6 instead of through a screen." I put my phone away and looked up.

He was right. Watching the fireworks without any distraction was a completely different 7. I could feel the boom in my chest and see the colors reflected on the river surface. It was breathtaking.

The show lasted about thirty minutes. When the last firework 8 in the sky, the crowd burst into loud applause. People were smiling and taking group photos. The night air was filled with the smell of smoke and the sound of happy voices.

On the way home, Mother said that fireworks had been a tradition in China for 9 of years. They were first invented in ancient China and later spread to other countries. I felt proud to know that something so beautiful came from our culture.

That night, I lay in bed thinking about the colorful sky. It was a holiday evening I would always 10.
