中考英语完形填空：和爸爸一起修自行车

完形填空原文

Last weekend, my bicycle had a flat tyre. I was sad because I couldn't ride it to the park. My dad said, "Don't worry. Let's 1 it together." I was so happy that Dad had time to help me.

We took the bike to the yard. Dad brought out a box of tools and spread them on the ground. "First," he said, "we need to find where the air is 2. " He taught me how to put the inner tube in water. When we saw bubbles, we found the 3. Dad said I did a good job!

Next, we cleaned the hole and put a patch on it. Dad was very 4 when he showed me each step. I had never done this before, so I asked many questions. He never got angry. He always said, "Take your 5. There's no need to rush."

After the patch dried, we put the tyre back and pumped air into it. I tried to do it myself, but my arms got 6 quickly. Dad smiled and said, "Let me help you." Together we finished it. The bike was 7 again!

That afternoon we rode to the park together. On the way, Dad said, "Remember, when something is broken, don't 8 right away. Try to fix it first. You'll learn something 9 every time." I nodded. I knew that fixing the bike with Dad was not just about the bike — it was one of the best 10 we had shared. I hope we can do more things together like this.
