10-21 第1篇

中考英语完形填空：帮同学补习英语（同伴互助）

完形填空原文

My classmate Tom often had 1 with English. He was good at maths and science, but English made him feel worried. One day, he asked me if I could help him. I agreed because I knew how 2 it felt when others helped me before.

We decided to meet after school every Tuesday and Thursday. At first, I didn't know how to teach. I just read the 3 aloud and asked Tom to repeat. But that wasn't enough. He needed to understand the rules. So I prepared some exercises and explained the grammar 4 by step. Tom listened carefully and asked questions when he was 5.

After two months, Tom's English improved a lot. He could read short passages and answer questions correctly. What made me happier was that he started to help others in our class. "You taught me that helping is a two-way street," he said. "When I teach someone, I 6 the knowledge better myself."

Our teacher noticed the change. She said that peer tutoring was a 7 way to learn. "Both the tutor and the learner gain something," she told us. I never thought that helping Tom would make my own English 8 too. By explaining things to him, I had to think more clearly.

Now Tom and I are good friends. We still study together sometimes, but we also play basketball and share stories. Helping each other has brought us 9. I learned that the best way to learn is to teach, and the best way to grow is to help others 10.
