参考范文

The Internet has become part of our daily life, but it can also be dangerous if we are not careful.

Many teenagers face online safety problems. Some share personal information like phone numbers and home addresses on social media without thinking. Others fall for fake websites or online scams. Last month, my classmate Xiao Ming received a message saying he had won a prize. He almost gave away his parents' bank details before his father stopped him.

To stay safe online, here are my suggestions. First, never share private information with strangers. Second, think twice before clicking unknown links. Third, tell your parents or teachers immediately if anything feels wrong.

The Internet is a tool — let's use it wisely and safely!

全文翻译

互联网已经成为我们日常生活的一部分，但如果我们不小心，它也可能是危险的。

许多青少年面临网络安全问题。一些人在社交媒体上不加思考地分享电话号码、家庭住址等个人信息。还有人上当受骗于虚假网站或网络诈骗。上个月，我的同学小明收到一条信息说他中了奖。他差点把父母的银行信息泄露出去，幸好被他爸爸及时阻止了。

为了安全上网，以下是我的建议。第一，永远不要和陌生人分享私人信息。第二，点击未知链接前三思。第三，如果感觉不对劲，立即告诉父母或老师。

互联网是一个工具——让我们明智且安全地使用它！
