参考范文

Dear Amy,

Thanks for your letter! I'd love to share some thoughts on festivals in China and the West.

In China, the Mid–Autumn Festival is one of the most important holidays. Families get together, eat mooncakes and admire the full moon. It is a time for reunion and gratitude.

I know that Halloween is popular in the UK. Children dress up in costumes and go trick–or–treating. It is more about fun and excitement.

Although these two festivals are quite different, they both bring people closer. The Mid–Autumn Festival focuses on family warmth, while Halloween celebrates community and creativity. I think cultural differences make the world more colourful. Instead of seeing them as strange, we should respect and learn from each other.

Looking forward to your reply!

Yours,
Li Hua

全文翻译

亲爱的Amy，

谢谢你的来信！我很乐意分享一些关于中西方节日的想法。

在中国，中秋节是最重要的节日之一。一家人团聚在一起，吃月饼，赏满月。这是团圆和感恩的时刻。

我知道万圣节在英国很受欢迎。孩子们穿上各种服装，去"不给糖就捣蛋"。它更多的是关于乐趣和刺激。

虽然这两个节日截然不同，但它们都拉近了人们的距离。中秋节注重家庭温暖，而万圣节庆祝社区和创意。我认为文化差异让世界更加丰富多彩。与其觉得它们奇怪，不如互相尊重和学习。

期待你的回信！

你的，
李华

升格建议（3条）

建议	普通表达	升格表达
中秋	We eat mooncakes and watch the moon.	Under the silver glow of the full moon, families gather around a table of mooncakes, sharing laughter and love.
对比	The two festivals are different.	One paints the night with lantern light; the other fills it with pumpkin grins — different brushes, but both colour the world with joy.
看法	Cultural differences are good.	Every culture is a unique chapter in the great book of humanity — the more chapters we read, the wiser we become.
