参考范文

Online shopping has become very popular, especially during events like "Double Eleven". But is it really good for teenagers?

On the one hand, online shopping is convenient. We can buy almost anything without leaving home, and there are more choices and lower prices than in physical stores. On the other hand, it can easily lead to impulsive buying. Many students spend money on things they don't actually need just because they see a big discount.

In my opinion, teenagers should learn to spend money wisely. Before buying anything online, ask yourself three questions: Do I really need it? Can I afford it? Is the quality reliable? If you can answer "yes" to all three, go ahead. If not, close the page and walk away.

Smart spending is a skill that will benefit us for a lifetime.

全文翻译

网上购物已经非常流行了，尤其是在"双十一"这样的活动期间。但它对青少年真的好吗？

一方面，网购很方便。我们足不出户就能买到几乎任何东西，而且比实体店有更多的选择和更低的价格。另一方面，它容易导致冲动消费。很多学生仅仅因为看到大折扣就花钱买了实际不需要的东西。

在我看来，青少年应该学会明智地花钱。在网上买任何东西之前，问自己三个问题：我真的需要它吗？我买得起吗？质量可靠吗？如果三个问题都回答"是"，那就买。如果不是，关掉页面，走开。

理性消费是一种让我们终身受益的技能。

升格建议（3条）

建议	普通表达	升格表达
优点	Online shopping is convenient.	With a single tap, the world's marketplace opens at your fingertips.
问题	Some people buy too much.	A 50%-off tag is not a reason to buy — it is a trick designed to make your wallet cry.
建议	We should spend wisely.	Before you click "buy", let your brain have a five-second conversation with your wallet — they usually agree more than you think.
