参考范文

Dear James,

Great question! Let me share my thoughts on city life and country life.

City life is convenient. We have easy access to hospitals, shopping centres and public transport. There are also more job and education opportunities. However, cities can be noisy, crowded and polluted.

Country life is the opposite. The air is fresh, the pace of life is slower and people enjoy a closer relationship with nature. But there may be fewer schools, hospitals and entertainment options.

If I had to choose, I would pick city life — at least for now. As a student, I need good schools and libraries nearby. But when I grow older, I dream of living in a quiet village surrounded by mountains and fields, where I can read, garden and breathe clean air.

Perhaps the ideal life is one that combines the convenience of the city with the peace of the countryside.

Yours,
Li Hua

全文翻译

亲爱的James，

好问题！让我分享一下对城市和乡村生活的看法。

城市生活很方便。我们可以轻松去医院、购物中心和使用公共交通。也有更多的工作和教育机会。但城市可能嘈杂、拥挤和有污染。

乡村生活恰恰相反。空气清新、生活节奏更慢，人们与自然的关系更亲密。但学校、医院和娱乐选择可能更少。

如果必须选一个，至少现在我会选城市生活。作为学生，我需要附近有好的学校和图书馆。但等我长大了，我梦想住在一个被山和田野环绕的安静乡村，在那里读书、种花、呼吸新鲜空气。

也许理想的生活是将城市的便利和乡村的宁静结合在一起。

你的，
李华

升格建议（3条）

建议	普通表达	升格表达
城市	Cities are convenient but noisy.	A city is a machine that never sleeps — it hums with opportunity but buzzes with noise.
乡村	The countryside is quiet and beautiful.	In the countryside, time moves to the rhythm of birdsong, and the sky is the only ceiling you'll ever need.
理想	I want both city and country life.	My ideal life would have a city postcode and a countryside soul — busy enough to grow, quiet enough to think.
