中考英语完形填空：中秋节赏月

完形填空原文

The Mid-Autumn Festival is one of the most important 1 festivals in China. This year, our family celebrated it at my grandparents' house in the countryside.

After dinner, we carried a small table and several chairs to the yard. Grandmother had prepared mooncakes, fruit, and tea 2 the table. The night was clear, and we could see 3 of stars in the sky.

As the moon rose 4 above the rooftops, everyone became quiet. It was so round and bright that it seemed close enough to 5. My little brother pointed at it and asked, "Does Chang'e 6 live there?" We all laughed.

Grandfather told us the legend of Chang'e and Hou Yi. I had heard the story many times before, 7 I still enjoyed listening to it under the moonlight. His voice was gentle, and the story sounded even more 8 than usual.

Later, we ate mooncakes and shared our wishes. Mother said she hoped everyone in the family would stay 9 and happy. I silently wished to do 10 in my studies this year.

That night, the moon followed us all the way home through the car window. It was truly a memorable festival.
