Our school organized a trip to the Science and Technology Museum last Friday. All the students in Grade Nine were excited 1 this news.

When we arrived, a guide was already waiting for us at the entrance. She led us 2 the first exhibition hall, which was about space exploration. I saw models of rockets and satellites. A short film showed how astronauts live and work 3 space. It was really amazing.

In the second hall, there were many interactive machines. We could press buttons and watch 4 happen on the screens. My friend Li Hua tried a virtual reality headset and pretended 5 walking on the moon. He looked so funny that all of us burst into 6.

The most popular area was the robot show. A small robot could dance, answer questions, and even play chess! When I asked 7 it could speak English, it replied, "Of course! Nice to meet you!" The whole crowd 8 loudly.

Before we left, the guide reminded us that science and technology have changed our daily life 9. She hoped that some of us 10 become scientists in the future. Her words planted a seed of dream in my heart.
