中考英语完形填空：学做手工钥匙链

完形填空原文

Our school's craft club meets every Friday afternoon. This week, the club leader taught us to make keychains 1 colorful beads and wire.

She first showed us a finished keychain. It was shaped like a little star, and the beads 2 beautifully in the light. We were all eager to make one for 3.

The materials were laid out on the table. I picked some blue and silver beads because they reminded me 4 the night sky. The club leader told us to thread the beads onto the wire in any pattern we liked.

I started threading the beads 5. At first, my fingers were clumsy, and some beads fell off. But after a few tries, I became 6 at handling the tiny wire. My pattern was a simple wave design.

The girl sitting across from me made a keychain with a heart shape. Hers was 7 beautiful than mine. I told her that her design was really creative, and she smiled 8.

At the end of the session, we attached metal rings to our keychains. I decided to give 9 to my mother as a small gift. When she received it that evening, her eyes lit up with joy.

"You made this yourself?" she asked in surprise. I nodded proudly. She said it was the 10 gift she had ever received.
